JOHN T. PRIEST,

Asst. City Clerk.

SECOND REPORT OF THE RECORD COMMISSIONERS.

To his Honor the Mayor and the City Council of Boston :—

It will be understood, from the terms of the preceding vote, that no detailed report is to be expected from the Record Commissioners at the present time. Acting under the instructions given them, they have endeavored to present faithful transcripts of the two earliest volumes of the records of the town of Boston, viz., of the first Book of Records proper, and of the Book of Possessions.

The value of the first volume of Records consists not only in the information given as to the names and possessions of the first inhabitants, but also in its indications of the extent of the powers exercised by the town authorities. Inasmuch as the progress of town government on the New England plan is, and always will be, of great interest to the student of social science, it must be worth while to present to the public the full and exact statement of the proceedings of the greatest town in the colony.

As to the Book of Possessions, it is sufficient to say that this must be the foundation of all titles to real estate within the old town limits, and that, therefore, it was, on many accounts, most desirable that it should be made accessible and permanent by receiving the honors of print.

The records of the town of Boston, now in the custody of the City Clerk, may be described as follows:—

Ten volumes, of which the first is here printed, containing the acts of the town from 1634 to 1822. The first volume (1634–1660) contains also the acts of the Selectmen; the second volume (1660–1728) contains the acts of the Selectmen from 1660 to 1701; and thenceforward it records only the proceedings of the town. In 1701 the system was established of recording the doings of the Selectmen separately, and twenty-three volumes contain their records until 1822.

There are a few miscellaneous volumes, as the Book of Possessions, etc. In two large volumes, also, have been bound up the miscellaneous papers in the custody of the City Clerk, covering the periods of 1634–1715, 1717–1734. After this date the papers are still arranged in files and bundles.

Recently the Record Commissioners have reported to his Honor the Mayor the necessity of taking some measures to assort and preserve the records of the old courts of the County of Suffolk prior to the Revolution. In spite of the neglect which these files have suffered for many years it is highly probable that they contain documents of prime importance to the history of our town.

It may be proper to mention that very little has yet been done towards publishing the history of Boston. The magnitude of the task has probably prevented its accomplishment; and the deplorable deficiencies in the records, which it is the task of the Commissioners to repair, may also have discouraged enthusiasts. A brief sketch of the principal contributions to our local history may be of some service.

In the third volume of the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society, for 1794, there was printed (pp. 241–304) "A Topographical and Historical Description of Boston, 1794," by Thomas Pemberton.

Not much can be expected of a work of sixty pages on so large a subject.

Next we find the following book:—

"A Topographical and Historical Description of Boston, from the first settlement of the Town to the present period; with some account of its Environs. By Charles Shaw, Esq., Member of the American Antiquarian Society . . . . . Boston: printed and published by Oliver Spear. 1817." [12mo, pp. 311. Woodcuts. S. Dearborn, del., A. Bowen, Sc. New State House, Fanenil Hall, Christ Church, Old State House, Julien's, Milk St., Triangular Warehouse, Town Dock, Fac-simile of First entry in Town records.]

This work is based upon Pemberton's Description, with the addition of some material taken from the earlier writers. A few extracts from the Town records are given, but not enough to make the book a distinct authority. The most valuable portion is the additions to Pemberton's sketches, showing the changes between 1796 and 1817.

Next we may notice the following:—

"A History of Boston, the metropolis of Massachusetts, from its origin to the present period; with some Account of the Environs. By Caleb H. Snow, M.D. Embellished with engravings. Boston: published by Abel Bowen, No. 2 Congress-Square, Congress-street. Printed by Munroe and Francis, 128 Washington-street, 1825." 8vo, pp. 400. [It contains 29 engravings and wood-cuts, of which a list is given. Pp. 395-400 were occupied with the index; but soon after an Appendix was published, being pp. 393-4 reprinted, and continued as pp. 395-424.]

In 1828 a second edition was published; but apparently it consisted only of the sheets of the first edition and the appendix, with a new index (pp. 425-427), and new title-page. It seems that Abel Bowen was the proprietor of the book, and that he issued proposals for a subsequent edition, but never carried his idea into execution. In 1829 Bowen published his "Picture of Boston" (2d edition, 1833; 3d edition, 1838), the parent of numerous guide-books.

The next book claiming our attention bears the following title:—

"A Municipal History of the Town and City of Boston, during two centuries. From September 17, 1630, to September 17, 1830. By Josiah Quincy. Boston: Charles C. Little and James Brown. 1852." 8vo, pp. 444.

This is substantially the history of Boston, under its charter as a city, from 1822 to 1830. The illustrations are, a view of the Quincy Market, and a plan of the same, showing the streets and estates taken, altered, and laid out in consequence of that construction.

In 1852 the late Samuel G. Drake commenced the publication, in parts, of the History of Boston, and in 1856 issued the volume, with the following title : —

"The History and Antiquities of Boston, the Capital of Massachusetts and Metropolis of New-England, from its Settlement in 1630, to the year 1770. Also an Introductory History of the Discovery and Settlement of New England, with notes, critical and illustrative. By Samuel G. Drake, A.M., &c., &c. Boston : published by Luther Stevens, 186 Washington street. 1856." 8vo, pp. 840.

It will be no disparagement to this very useful work to say that it was planned on too large a scale for success. The author received a very flattering request from the City Government to continue its publication, but was compelled by the infirmities of age to decline.

In 1871 the City Government gave official sanction to the following-named work of Mayor Shurtleff : —

"A Topographical and Historical Description of Boston. By Nathaniel B. Shurtleff. Boston : printed by request of the City Council, 1871." 8vo, pp. 720.

This was in no sense a history of the town, but rather a collection of essays relating to various historical topics. Dr. Shurtleff's familiarity with certain topics, as those of the early descriptions of the town, the maps, the graveyards, etc., etc., renders this book one of great interest and value.

Lastly, we may note Hales' "Survey of Boston," 1821, pp. 156, and Samuel Adams Drake's "Old Landmarks and Historic Personages of Boston," 1873, pp. 484, as formal contributions to our local history. Of course, there have been many minor publications devoted to limited subjects, notably histories of the various religious societies, and many public documents issued by order of the City Government.

It will be seen, however, that Boston still remains without a complete history in print, and that, therefore, the publication of any portion of its records is not unnecessary.

It is also to be remembered that Boston now comprises at least three other ancient towns, each with records and a history of its own. These may well demand in the future a proper amount of attention, and require proportionate publication.

It is hoped that the City Government will authorize the Record Commissioners to continue the work of publishing the records; of course not in full, but by means of such judicious selections as will afford valuable information about our predecessors.

Owing to the nature of the work, the duty of editing the First Book of Records and of transcribing the Book of Possessions has devolved exclusively upon the senior commissioner.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. WHITMORE,

WILLIAM S. APPLETON,

BOSTON TOWN RECORDS.

NOTE.—It is intended that the following pages shall be an exact transcript of the original record, with the exception that abbreviations peculiar to written documents are herein printed in full. That is, the form "ye" for "the," "yt" for "that," "wth" for "with," "&" for "and," are confessedly not the forms used in printed documents of the date of these records. Hence, although it is intended to preserve all peculiarities of spelling, a retention of these contracted forms of writing would only unnecessarily add to the difficulty of using this transcript.

The pagination of the original volume is inserted in our text in brackets.

Every portion of the original is copied, except those marginal notes which are simply indicative of the full record in the text. No use can be found for such notes which would in any degree compensate for the additional cost of printing.

This edition is printed from a copy made by W. B. Trask, Esq., and has been compared with a copy made in 1855 by Mr. Morse for the City Government, as well as with the original record.

Whereas severall parcells of the townes ground is taken up by sellar doores, which proove accomodable to many of the inhabitants, and in time by custome may bee claimed to bee propriety by the present or future possessors of such houses as enjoy that priviledg. Itt is therefore ordered that every person that hath or shall have a cellar doore into any of the streets of the towne shall pay twelve pence every first of March to the Towne Treasurer, and in case of non-payment the Treasurer of the Towne is impowered to leavy the same by distress.

Whereas M<sup>r</sup>. Habacuck Glover hath sett up severall pillars upon the townes ground to support his house ; Itt is ordered that the said Glover shall pay twelve pence for every such pillar so erected, every first of March to the Towne Treasurer.

Whereas divers offences arise through defective fences, and different apprehensions of the sufficiency of fences betweene proprietors ; Itt is therefore ordered that all outside fences aboutt pastures or cornfeilds shall be substantially fenced, either with five rayles, or posts and pales, or sufficient stone walls, or other wise, according to the judgment of the select men ; and that all partitionall fences betweene lott and lott shall be ordered by the select men, in case of the disagreement of the proprietors ; and in case any damage arise to others, by the defect of fences, the party whose fence is defective shall pay all damages, as shall bee adjudged by the select men or any deputed by them upon the complaint of any damaged.

Itt is ordered that demand bee made of Leint. Turner for a high way from Elder Pen's to centry hill ; according to a former order of towne.

There is let unto Leint. Wm. Hudson the Lane between Elder Pen and Mr. Willson's Garden, during the Townes pleasure, he paying ten shillings everie first of March to the Townes Treasurer, and to secure it that it may be ready for passage of Horse and foote, without Interruption.

[143.] Whereas by long and sad experience very many and greatt damages have accrued to this towne by swine, besides the many dangers that children have beene in of loss of life and limb, and elder people also of greatt hurt, by the unrulines and ravenousnes of swine, and notwithstanding the law in that case provided by the Gen. Court that requires the making and constituting effectuall orders to prevent all harmes by swine. And although yearely endeavours have beene to attaine the end aforesaid and yett fruittles.

Itt is therefore ordered that henceforth every inhabitant in this towne that shall keepe any swine within this towne after the first of the next month they shall constantly keepe up such swine in their owne ground. And in case any swine in any part of this towne, outt of the owner's lands, the owner of such swine shall pay for every such defect two shillings. sixe pence to the Townes Treasurer, for the townes use, to be leavied by warrant under his hand, or any other of the select men, to the constable. And to the end this order may nott bee frustrated, itt shall bee lawfull for (and is desired of) every one to inform of the breach of this order, and shall have liberty to impound such swine, for which the one halfe of the fines shall bee allowed to the enformer or impounder.

And notwithstanding the aforesaid order of keeping upp swine, yett shall so keep them up to the annoyance of any neighbours or travellers through the common streets or high wayes, upon the foresaid poenalty for every offence, after notice given them by any of the select men.

[145.] Whereas many children and others are exposed to many dangers by Carts, either by being left carelessly in the streetes without their drivers, or else by the Carters riding through the towne in their Carts, Itt is therefore ordered that henceforth all horse-carts shall bee led by the carters with a rayne, and shall nott be left loose in any streete, butt shall bee tyed to some place where they may not break loose. And itt is further ordered that no other Carters shall bee permitted to ride in their Carts, when they drive through the towne, nor leave their oxen standing loose in any streete; And in case any shall bee seene to act contrary to this order, they shall pay two shillings for every such offence, and this order to take place upon every Cart that shall come to this towne after due publication.

The Cedar swamp att Muddy river is lett to Ralph Mason his heyres and assignes for fifty yeaeres next ensuing, after the first of March next, in consideration whereof, hee shall pay yearly every first of March fourty shillings in wheate and pease proportionately; and hee is to pay fourty shillings for this summer, and a fayre livery Cupboard for the towne house.

Whereas many careless persons carry fire from one house unto another in open fire pans or brands ends, by reason of which greatt damage may accrue to the towne; It is therefore ordered that no person shall have liberty to carry fire from one house to another, without a safe vessell to secure itt from the wind, upon pœnalty of ten shillings to bee paid by every party so fetching, and halfe so much by those that permitt them so to take fire.

Whereas there is an order in force for restraint of swine (within this towne of Boston) from passing the bounds of their owners styes or fences, which though judged meete to abide as an act, wherein the good and welfare of this place is much concerned; yett considering the present complaints of many for want of Corne to keepe their swine up with, and the unfittness of the season of the yeaere for slaughter; And that no just grievance may bee to any by denying the benefitt of grazing in the common this summer; Itt is therefore declared that no advantage shall bee taken against any by force of the present order untill the first of October next, provided their swine bee sufficiently yoked and ringed as the law hath provided in that case. And whereas for the evading of the fines to bee leavied by distress for trespasses of swine according to towne order, many have refused to owne their swine, Itt is therefore ordered hereby that if no owner shall appeare, the hoggs trespassing shall bee forfeited to the towne, iff nott owned, and both fine and damage done by them to bee satisfied within one weeke.

THE BOOK OF POSSESSIONS.

THERE is in the custody of the City Clerk, as part of the city archives, a book entitled The Book of Possessions, of which the following pages give a careful transcript. An abbreviated copy is in Drake's History of Boston.

Nothing definite seems to be known of the origin of this book, and from reasons hereinafter given I presume that it was compiled about the year 1652. SNOW (History of Boston, p. 128) only says that "It seems to embrace the period from 1640 to 1650." DRAKE (History of Boston, p. 785) makes the following statement: "In an original memorandum,* made by Isaac Addington, that gentleman says, 'When I was appointed Clerk of the County Court, in 1672, I found a book in that office, entitled on the cover, "Possessions of the Inhabitants of Boston."' Mr. Addington adds that while he was in office persons often came to consult the work, but he did not see its 'validity.'"

Of the value of the record there can be no doubt, and I therefore give a little space to the consideration of its probable date.†

At a meeting of the General Court, Oct. 19, 1652, it was voted, — that whereas the passing of houses and land in England was effectually done in various ways, and whereas certain in this jurisdiction were apt to rest upon a verbal bargain or sale for houses or lands, henceforth no such sale should be good in law unless made by deed in writing, under hand and seal and delivered, or possession given, etc., unless the deed be acknowledged according to law and recorded. (Rec. 111, 280.)

They had previously, June 19, 1650 (Rec. 111, 203), provided that a sale recorded by the recorder of the county should be sufficient without any further certifying to the Secretary of the General Court.

* I have been unable to learn where this memorandum was found, and Mr. Samuel A. Drake writes me that the original certainly was not in his father's collection. . . .

† SHURTLEFF (Description of Boston, p. 408) would make the date about 1643, but I doubt if he had carefully considered the question.

May 6, 1657 (Rec. 111, 422), the Court recites, "The great neglect of many persons, in the infancy of these plantations, to observe any due order or legal course for the confirmation of such sales and alienations of houses and lands as have passed," and then orders that every one who did, before the passage of the law of 1652, possess or occupy house or land in fee simple, should ever after this date hold the same, unless a counter-claim was prosecuted to effect within five years from May 20, 1657.

We may fairly assume, therefore, that in October, 1652, there was an examination of the state of the titles to lands in the colony, and that Boston was not remiss in discharging this duty.

Another circumstance may have aided in calling for a new record. November 13, 1644, William Aspinwall was appointed Notary Public, and, as our records show, in that capacity he received acknowledgments of many deeds. In fact, there are references to the volume of the records of the Notary Public.*

But October 15, 1651, he fell into disgrace (Rec. 111, 257), for charging the Court and jury with going against law and conscience in making the landlord pay rent to the tenant, and Edward Rawson was appointed Recorder of Suffolk in his place, to whom Aspinwall was to deliver "all the records belonging to the said county."

At the same time, upon the request of the inhabitants of Boston, Jonathan Negoos was made clerk of the writs for that town, in his place, and Mr. Aspinwall was "ordered to deliver him the records of deaths, births, and marriages, as belonging to that office."

Again (Rec. vol. 4, pt. 1, p. 118), October 26, 1652, Nathaniel Souther was appointed Public Notary for this jurisdiction, in the room of William Aspinwall, and took the oath.

SAVAGE adds that Aspinwall went to England, and there published, in 1653, a queer book as prognostic of the millennium to open in twenty years.

As no record of the notarial volumes remains, it is not improbable that Aspinwall took them away with him, and that the town felt the necessity of a new official record of lands.

Our present volumes of Records of Deeds do not reach back as far as the original grants.

* For an example see p. 54 of the Book of Possessions. I think I have seen a mention of a second volume also. There are references in the text to a second volume of Possessions. See pp. 43, 50, 69 and 88 of the original. Also on p. 77 there is a reference to the "Great Book of Records of Copies, &c."

The earliest deed, so far as date of record is concerned, is entered under date of 8 mo. (i.e., October), 1640. It is on page 13 of the volume, the preceding twelve pages being covered by miscellaneous matters.

Perhaps the most important of these papers are those relating to a number of passengers sent over in 1651, by the ship "John and Sarah," printed in the "N. E. Historical and Genealogical Register," pp. 377-380. They are supposed to have been a part of the Scotch prisoners taken by Cromwell at the Battle of Dunbar, Sept. 3, 1650.

The Record proceeds with reasonable regularity from that date, although volumes 112 and 114 have been missing ever since the Revolution, and a portion, pp. 280-340, inclusive, is wanting to volume 19.*

The second volume of deeds was begun April 7, 1654, by Edward Rawson, as he attests on the first page of the book.

The internal evidence points strongly to the summer of 1652 as the date of the compilation. Our Boston records (printed in the N. E. Hist. Gen. Register, x., 71) give the following deaths here:—

- Sept. 14, 1652, Bozoun Allen died.
- March 1, 1651-2, William Ludkin drowned.
- March 1, 1651-2, Samuel Oliver drowned.
- March 1, 1651-2, George Bennet drowned.
- Aug. 24, 1652, Adam Winthrop died.
- Sept. 19, 1652, Mathew Parker died.
- Sept. 26, 1652, Thomas Stanbury died.
- Oct. 9, 1652, *Arthur Perry died.
- Oct. 7, 1652, William Blanchard died.
- Dec. 15, 1652, *Rev. John Cotton died.
- Jan. 18, 1652-3, *Captain William Tyng died.
- Jan. 1, 1653-4, *John Low died.
- Jan. 20, 1653-4, *William Dening died.
- Nov. 21, 1653, *Robert Woodward died.
- May 16, 1654, *Thomas Wheeler died.
- June 28, 1654, Samuel Norton died.
- July 23, 1654, *Mr. William Hibbins died.
- July 31, 1654, John Avery died.
- Dec. 9, 1654, *Maj.-Gen. Edward Gibbons died.
- Dec. 13, 1654, *Barnabas Fawer died.

* I do not know when this loss occurred. I believe it was unknown to the present excellent Registrar until this year.

The above list, in which those mentioned in the Book of Possessions are marked with a star, shows that none are named who died before October, 1652, while several are named who died very soon after. The only exception is William Blanchard, who died October 7, but who is not in the list. Probably he was not a householder.

The most striking cases, showing where the line was drawn, are those of Adam Winthrop, omitted, who died August 24, 1652, and Rev. John Cotton and Captain William Tyng, mentioned, who died respectively in December and January following.

The persons omitted, who died earlier in 1652, were men of note, and presumably householders. Bozoun Allen was a very prominent citizen; William Ludkin was a constable; Samuel Oliver, George Bennett, and Thomas Stanbury, all were married men with families. The inference is very strong, that had they been alive when the list was made their names would have appeared.

I have noticed but few apparent exceptions. Thus Jacob Eliot is named, but I think that the person meant was not Dea. J., who died in 1651, but his son, of the same name. So in the case of Atherton Haugh, or Hough, who is named, but who died September 11, 1650. His only child was Rev. Samuel H., of Reading, a non-resident, which fact may have caused the estate to be mentioned in the father's name.

Other cases may hereafter be found to correct the above suggestions; but in the mean time I must continue to consider the evidence as pointing to the summer of 1652 as the date of this great original record of the distribution of lands in the town of Boston.

[NOTE. — In the following transcript the abbreviations of the original have been followed, except in regard to “wth,” “wthn,” “&,” and “weh,” respectively printed “with,” “within,” “and,” “which.” These occurred so often that exactness in copying would have disfigured the text greatly. So, also, the use of capitals in the words east, south, west, north, has been abandoned, as the original was very irregular, and a partial use would have made the text less easily understood. The pagination of the original is given herein in brackets. W. H. W.]
